Factors that we take into consideration when making our recommendation(s) include, but are not limited to, the following: the Third-Party Advisor(s)'s performance, methods of analysis, fees, your financial needs, investment goals, risk tolerance, and investment objectives.

We will periodically monitor the Third-Party Advisors(s)' performance to ensure its management and investment style remains aligned with your investment goals and objectives. The Third-Party Advisor(s) will actively manage your portfolio and will assume discretionary investment authority over your account. Private Wealth will assume discretionary authority to hire and fire Third-Party Advisor(s) and/or reallocate your assets to other Third-Party Advisor(s) where we deem such action appropriate.

Additional fees are associated with the use of Third-Party Advisors. A description of the fees associated with these Third-Party Advisors can be found in Item 5.

If Private Wealth recommends the service provider(s), and the client engages the provider(s), then the client will pay the provider(s) directly for the provider(s)’ services. This is in addition to any fees the client pays to Private Wealth. While Private Wealth may have pre-existing business relationship with the selected provider(s), Private Wealth does not receive any referral fees, percentages of payments by clients to the service provider(s), or any other form of compensation associated with selection of a particular service provider. As of 12/31/2022, the Firm has approximately the following Assets Under Management (“AUM”):

- Discretionary AUM: $ 926,000,000.00

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

In addition to the information provided in Item 4 above, this section provides details regarding Firm fee and compensation arrangements for the services we provide to clients.

Compensation for Investment Advisory Services

Investment Management Services

Private Wealth bases its fees for Investment Management Services on a percentage of total Assets Under Management (“AUM”) per annum as detailed in the tiered fee schedules below. Actual fees paid may be negotiated and may differ from those in the fee schedule. A client may pay more or less than other clients in the same fee tier. Amounts may vary as a result of negotiations, our relationship with the client, and/or factors that are specific to the client such as the size of the relationship, required service levels, and client customization of guidelines. Further, Private Wealth provides a fee reduction to its employees and partners. In certain cases, clients may negotiate a flat fee that results in a lower fee than would be paid under the below fee schedule. Certain trust accounts may be granted a one-time discounted fee rate based on external legal expenses paid for trust document revisions necessary to transfer their accounts to Private Wealth. This fee rate reduction is applied to the first billing period after which such accounts will be charged according to the agreed upon fee schedule.

Individually Managed/Family Office/Non- Philanthropic Organization Accounts

	Account Size (AUM)	Fee (Annual Percentage)
Fees for individually managed or organization accounts that are not philanthropic are tier priced as follows:	$0 – $2 Million	1.20%
	$2 Million+ to $5 Million	0.75%
	$5 Million+ to $10 Million	0.60%
	$10 Million+ to $20 Million	0.50%
	$20 Million+	0.40%

Philanthropic Accounts

	Account Size (AUM)	Fee (Annual Percentage)
Fees for any non-profit or tax-exempt organization account are tier priced as follows:	$0 – $2 Million	1.20%
	$2 Million+ to $5 Million	0.75%
	$5 Million+ to $10 Million	0.60%
	$10 Million+	0.25%

Fixed Income Accounts

	$15 Million+	0.25%

Private Wealth Asset Management, LLC – ADV Part 2A with Privacy Policy

Fees for Investment Management Services are billed monthly, in arrears, meaning that we assess fees to you after the monthly billing period has ended. Fees are calculated on the basis of daily average balance, which is determined by averaging your account's day-end values for the days of the month your account is active. Asset additions to or withdrawals from an account during the billing period are accounted for during fee billing as of the day of addition or withdrawal. Payment in full is expected upon assessment of fees. Fees may be deducted from a designated client account to facilitate billing. The client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their investment account. Clients may also choose to pay by check.

Private placements and alternative investments under management are billed differently as they use old valuations and billing will fluctuate based on when valuations are updated.

Please refer to your agreement with us for specific details on the amount and way we are compensated by you for providing Investment Management Services.

Wealth Planning Services

Wealth Planning fees are based on a negotiated flat fee divided into installment payments contracted usually for a three-year term but may vary depending on the needs of the client. Payment terms and further details will be found in the agreement between us and the client for Wealth Planning Services.

Selection of Other Advisors

Our advisory fee will be in addition to the fee you pay to the Third-Party Advisors. Our advisory fee is set within a range provided by Third-Party Advisors for the service of referring clients and assuming the fiduciary responsibility of the Third-Party Advisors to meet your objectives. The advisory fee you pay to the Third-Party Advisors is in addition the management fee paid to Private Wealth for Investment Management Services. This creates a conflict of interest because greater compensation may be received by us where clients engage with a Third-Party Advisor recommended by us. In other words, we have an incentive to recommend Third-Party Advisors and we may be further incentivized to recommend one Third-party Advisor over another Third-Party Advisor with whom we have less favorable compensation arrangements or other advisory programs offered by Third-Party Advisors with which we have no compensation arrangements. Clients are not obligated to use any of the sub advisor recommendations.

Please refer to your agreement with us for Investment Management Services for specific information on how we are compensated for recommending Third-Party Advisors and the additional fees you will pay for using such advisors.

Third-Party/Custodian Fees

As applicable for all Investment Advisory Services, custodians may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of securities. These transaction charges are usually small and incidental to the purchase or sale of a security. During the process to select securities for client accounts, the fee that the custodian charges to buy or sell the security is one of many factors taken into consideration when determining a security selection and the value to a client. These charges are in addition to the fees paid by a client to Private Wealth.

Mutual funds generally charge a management fee for their services as investment managers. The management fee is called an expense ratio. For example, an expense ratio of 0.50 means that the mutual fund company charges 0.5% for their services per annum. These fees are in addition to the fees paid by a client to Private Wealth. This will reduce net investment returns on a client's portfolios. Performance figures quoted by mutual fund companies in various publications are after their fees have been deducted. As with custodian fees, these charges are in addition to the fees paid by a client to Private Wealth.

Advance Fee Payments

Regarding Investment Advisory Services, with the exception of Wealth Planning Services and Business Transition Planning, Private Wealth charges fees in arrears, not in advance. Non-Investment Advisory Services may be charged differently, and this is discussed in further detail below.

Compensation for Non-Investment Advisory Services

“Circle of Services”

As discussed in Item 4, the Circle of Services is provided without charge by Private Wealth to clients engaged with Private Wealth for Investment Management Services; however, you will pay fees to these providers.

Business Transition Planning

Business Transition Planning fees are based on a negotiable flat annual fee and are typically divided into installments, are payable by check, and are contracted usually for a one-year term but may vary depending on the needs of the client. Each client we provide Business Transition Planning services will enter into an agreement with us that details the compensation we will receive for those services. Business Transition Planning clients who become investment advisory services clients will cease paying Business Transition Planning fees upon executing a Financial Services Agreement for investment advisory services.

Oil & Gas Holdings Management

Energy Asset Management fees are based on a percentage of gross revenue of various production activities illustrated in the below fee schedule. Oil & Gas Holdings Management fees are billed monthly, in arrears, meaning that we assess fees to you after the monthly billing period has ended. Fees are calculated on the basis of percentage of gross revenue under management as of end of business on the final day of each month. Asset additions to or withdrawals from an account during the billing period are accounted for during fee billing as of the day of addition or withdrawal. Payment in full is expected upon assessment of fees. Fees may be deducted from a designated Client Account to facilitate billing. The Client must consent in advance to direct debiting of an account. Clients may also choose to pay by check. Private Wealth reserves the right to charge a late fee in the amount of 5% for all payments that are received more than 10 days after the due date. In addition, Private Wealth reserves the right to deduct all fees and expenses owed by Client from any money that Private Wealth collects on behalf of Client pursuant to the Asset Management Agreement prior to depositing them into Client’s designated account.

Energy Asset Management

Fees are as follows:	Producing Royalty, Overriding Royalty & Mineral Interests	6%
	Working Interests	6%
	Total Bonus for Lease/Farm-out Negotiations	6%
	Delay Rentals	6%
	Sales Proceeds	6%
	Annual Base Per Property Fee	$35

Real Estate Asset Management

Real Estate Asset Management fees are based on a tri-annual market value of real estate assets. Market values are sourced from third party appraisals, county appraisal districts, broker opinion of value or market studies. The fee schedule appears below. Real Estate Asset Management fees are billed monthly, in arrears, meaning that we assess fees to you after the monthly billing period has ended. Fees are calculated on the basis of total value of assets under management as of end of business on the final day of each month. Asset additions to or withdrawals from an account during the billing period are accounted for during fee billing as of the day of addition or withdrawal. Payment in full is expected upon assessment of fees. Fees may be deducted from a designated Client Account to facilitate billing. The Client must consent in advance to direct debiting of an account. Clients may also choose to pay by check. Private Wealth reserves the right to charge a late fee in the amount of 5% for all payments that are received more than 10 days after the due date. In addition, Private Wealth reserves the right to deduct all fees and expenses owed by Client from any money that Private Wealth collects on behalf of Client pursuant to the Asset Management Agreement prior to depositing them into Client's designated account.

Real Estate Asset Management

	Account Size (AUM)	Fee (Annual Percentage)
Fees are as follows:	$0-$2 Million	1.20%
	$2 Million+ to $5 Million	0.75%
	$5 Million+ to $10 Million	0.60%
	$10 Million+ to $20 Million	0.50%
	$20 Million+	0.40%

Other Compensation

Some of Private Wealth's representatives are Registered Representatives of Purshe Kaplan Sterling Investments, Inc. ("PKS"), member FINRA/SIPC and is not affiliated with Private Wealth. As such, they are able to accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including distribution or service ("trail") fees from the sale of mutual funds. The practice of accepting commissions for the sale of securities presents a conflict of interest as it creates an incentive to recommend investment products based on compensation received. The client is under no obligation to buy an insurance product or act upon the recommendation. This conflict is addressed through disclosure of this incentive.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees & Side-by-Side Management

Private Wealth does not charge performance-based fees (i.e., fees calculated based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the client's assets or any portion of the client's assets). Consequently, we do not engage in side-by-side management of accounts that are charged a performance-based fee with accounts that are charged another type of fee (such as assets under management).

Item 7: Types of Clients

The Firm offers a variety of services, including investment advisory and non-investment advisory services. These services are provided to:

- Individuals (including high net worth individuals)
- Family offices
- Trusts
- Estates
- Philanthropic and non-profit organizations
- Other types of business entities

Minimum Account Size

The Firm does not have a required minimum account size for Investment Advisory Services. However, Third-Party Advisors, as described in Items 4 and 5, may have minimum requirements based on their investment model and strategies.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies & Risk of Loss

Methods Of Analysis

The Firm may use any one or a combination of the following methods when considering investment strategies and recommendations. Sub Advisors may use strategies not listed. Please refer to their ADV Brochure for more information.

Broad Investment Philosophy:

We believe that investment success requires a disciplined and systematic approach. Our investment philosophy is grounded in the academic tenets of Modern Portfolio Theory tempered by pragmatic investment experience. We manage capital on behalf of our clients' best interest.

Strategic Asset Allocation:

We believe that strategic asset allocation is the main driver of performance. How much to allocate to stocks (large, mid, small, growth, value, domestic, foreign developed, emerging foreign), bonds (investment grade, high yield, preferred stock, inflation-indexed, short, intermediate, long-term, domestic, foreign, etc.) and other asset classes (REITS, Commodities, etc.) is the most important decision. While still crucial to success, manager selection explains a far smaller component of performance. We believe that alpha can best be quantified and is more persistent (skill is more identifiable) in alternative and niche asset classes / investment strategies. We do not believe in timing the market is effective as a long-term source of excess returns (net of expenses and opportunity costs), but where we view tactical inefficiencies in capital markets, we will exploit for the benefit of our clients. When appropriate we utilize a core/satellite approach to investing. Appropriateness depends on asset classes, available managers, and the risk/return profile of the client portfolio.

Tactical Asset Allocation:

Data shows markets can be inefficient and prices at the security, sector, or asset class level may be disconnected from intrinsic values. When the Private Wealth Asset Management Investment Committee ("PWAM IC") believes securities, sectors, or asset classes may be under- or over-valued, we may make tactical changes to take advantage of these temporary dislocations.

Economic Review

An economic analysis determines the economic environment over a certain time horizon. This involves reviewing global economic data such as gross domestic product, inflation, employment, interest rates, spending and saving, money supply and much more. A risk of this strategy involves its use of trailing indicators that confirm what has already occurred.

Political and Policy Review:

Politics and policy impact economies and capital markets. The PWAM IC may review the global geopolitical landscape to see how changes in key political personnel or policy may impact client investments.

Manager Selection

We hold core principles that are often key points of analysis and/or discussion in our consideration of an investment manager. Those are:

- Cost (explicit and implicit)
- Alignment of incentives
- Quantitative and qualitative analysis are stronger together and limited apart

Private Wealth Asset Management, LLC – ADV Part 2A with Privacy Policy

- Competitive advantage is rare
- Bad operational controls may override a good investment thesis

Costs

Investments may have implicit or explicit costs associated with transactions or holding the investment. We perform cost analysis to make decisions in the best interest of our clients.

Fundamental Review

Fundamental analysis is a method of evaluating a company or security by attempting to measure its intrinsic value. Fundamental analysis attempts to determine the true value of a company or security by looking at all aspects of the company of security, including both tangible factors (e.g., machinery, buildings, land, etc.) and intangible factors (e.g., patents, trademarks, “brand” names, etc.). Fundamental analysis also involves examining related economic factors (e.g., overall economy and industry conditions, etc.), financial factors (e.g., company debt, interest rates, management salaries and bonuses, etc.), and quantitative factors (e.g., debt-to-equity and price-to-equity ratios). The end goal of performing fundamental analysis is to produce a value that an investor can compare with the security’s current price with the aim of determining what sort of position to take with that security (e.g., if underpriced, the security should be bought; if overpriced the security should be sold). Fundamental analysis uses real data to evaluate a security’s value.

Cyclical Review

A cyclical analysis assumes the market may react in reoccurring patterns that can be identified and leveraged to provide performance. Cyclical analysis of economic cycles is used to determine how these reoccurring patterns, or cycles, affect the returns of a given investment, asset, or company. Cyclical analysis is a time- based assessment which incorporates past and present performance to determine future value. Cyclical analysis exists because the broad economy has been shown to move in cycles, from periods of peak performance to periods of low performance. The risks of this strategy are two-fold: (1) the markets do not always repeat cyclical patterns; and (2) if too many investors begin to implement this strategy, it changes the very cycles of which they are trying to take advantage.

Technical Review

A technical analysis is a method of evaluating securities that analyzes statistics generated by market activity, such as past prices and volume. Technical analysis does not attempt to measure a security’s intrinsic value, but instead uses past market data and statistical tools to identify patterns.

Charting Review

Charting is a technical analysis that charts the patterns of securities to see patterns in price movement. It is a way of gathering and processing price and volume information in a security by applying mathematical equations and plotting the resulting data onto graphs to find patterns in price movements. A graphical historical record assists the analyst in spotting the effect of key events on a security’s price, its performance over a period, and whether it is trading near its high, near its low, or in between. Charting is not used to make long-term decisions in investing but may help identify potential preferential entry points.

Risk Of Loss

Investing inherently involves risk up to and including loss of the principal sum. Further, past performance of any security is not necessarily indicative of future results. Therefore, future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy based on past performance should not be assumed as a guarantee. Private Wealth does not provide any representation or guarantee that the financial goals of clients will be achieved.

Private Wealth Asset Management, LLC – ADV Part 2A with Privacy Policy

The potential return or gain and potential risk or loss of an investment varies with the type of product invested in. Below is an overview of the types of products available on the market and the associated risks of each:

- General Risks. Investing in securities always involves risk of loss that you should be prepared to bear. We do not represent or guarantee that our services or methods of analysis can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate clients from losses due to market corrections or declines. We cannot offer any guarantees or promises that your financial goals and objectives can or will be met. Past performance is in no way an indication of future performance. We also cannot assure that third parties will satisfy their obligations in a timely manner or perform as expected or marketed.
- General Market Risk. Investment returns will fluctuate based upon changes in the value of the portfolio securities. Certain securities held may be worth less than the price originally paid for them, or less than they were worth at an earlier time.
- Common Stocks. Investments in common stocks, both directly and indirectly through investment in shares of ETFs, may fluctuate in value in response to many factors, including, but not limited to, the activities of the individual companies, general market and economic conditions, interest rates, and specific industry changes. Such price fluctuations subject certain strategies to potential losses. During temporary or extended bear markets, the value of common stocks will decline, which could also result in losses for each strategy.
- Portfolio Turnover Risk. High rates of portfolio turnover could lower performance of an investment strategy due to increased costs and may result in the realization of capital gains. If an investment strategy realizes capital gains when it sells its portfolio investments, it will increase taxable distributions to you. High rates of portfolio turnover in a given year would likely result in short-term capital gains and under current tax law you would be taxed on short-term capital gains at ordinary income tax rates, if held in a taxable account.
- Non-Diversified Strategy Risk. Some investment strategies may be non-diversified (e.g., investing a greater percentage of portfolio assets in a particular issuer and owning fewer securities than a diversified strategy). Accordingly, each such strategy is subject to the risk that a large loss in an individual issuer will cause a greater loss than it would if the strategy held a larger number of securities or smaller positions sizes.
- Model Risk. Financial and economic data series are subject to regime shifts, meaning past information may lack value under future market conditions. Models are based upon assumptions that may prove invalid or incorrect under many market environments. We may use certain model outputs to help identify market opportunities and/or to make certain asset allocation decisions. There is no guarantee any model will work under all market conditions. For this reason, we include model-related results as part of our investment decision process but we often weigh professional judgment more heavily in making trades or asset allocations.
- ETF Risks, including Net Asset Valuations and Tracking Error. An ETF's performance may not exactly match the performance of the index or market benchmark that the ETF is designed to track because 1) the ETF will incur expenses and transaction costs not incurred by any applicable index or market benchmark; 2) certain securities comprising the index or market benchmark tracked by the ETF may, from time to time, temporarily be unavailable; and 3) supply and demand in the market for either the ETF and/or for the securities held by the ETF may cause the ETF shares to trade at a premium or discount to the actual net asset value of the securities owned by the ETF. Certain ETF strategies may from time to time include the purchase of fixed income, commodities, foreign securities, American Depository Receipts, or other securities for which expenses and commission rates could be higher than normally charged for exchange-traded equity securities, and for which market quotations or valuation may be limited or inaccurate. Clients should be aware that to the extent they invest in ETF securities they will pay two levels of advisory compensation – advisory fees charged by advisor plus any advisory fees charged by the issuer of the ETF. This scenario may cause a higher advisory cost (and potentially lower investment returns) than if a client purchased the ETF directly. An ETF typically includes embedded expenses that may reduce the ETF's net asset value, and therefore directly affect the ETF's performance and indirectly affect a client's portfolio performance or an index benchmark comparison. Expenses of the ETF may include investment advisor management fees, custodian fees, brokerage commissions, and legal and accounting fees. ETF expenses may change from time to time at the sole discretion of the ETF issuer. ETF tracking error and expenses may vary.

- Inflation, Currency, and Interest Rate Risks. Security prices and portfolio returns will likely vary in response to changes in inflation and interest rates. Inflation causes the value of future dollars to be worth less and may reduce the purchasing power of an investor's future interest payments and principal. Inflation also generally leads to higher interest rates, which in turn may cause the value of many types of fixed income investments to decline. In addition, the relative value of the U.S. dollar-denominated assets primarily managed by advisor may be affected by the risk that currency devaluations affect Client purchasing power.
- Liquidity Risk. Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash to prevent a loss, realize an anticipated profit, or otherwise transfer funds out of the particular investment. Generally, investments are more liquid if the investment has an established market of purchasers and sellers, such as a stock or bond listed on a national securities exchange. Conversely, investments that do not have an established market of purchasers and sellers may be considered illiquid. Your investment in illiquid investments may be for an indefinite time, because of the lack of purchasers willing to convert your investment to cash or other assets.
- Legislative and Tax Risk. Performance may directly or indirectly be affected by government legislation or regulation, which may include, but is not limited to: changes in investment advisor or securities trading regulation; change in the U.S. government's guarantee of ultimate payment of principal and interest on certain government securities; and changes in the tax code that could affect interest income, income characterization and/or tax reporting obligations, particularly for options, swaps, master limited partnerships, Real Estate Investment Trust, Exchange Traded Products/Funds/ Securities. We do not engage in tax planning, and in certain circumstances a client may incur taxable income on their investments without a cash distribution to pay the tax due. Clients and their personal tax advisors are responsible for how the transactions in their account are reported to the IRS or any other taxing authority.
- Foreign Investing and Emerging Markets Risk. Foreign investing involves risks not typically associated with U.S. investments, and the risks may be exacerbated further in emerging market countries. These risks may include, among others, adverse fluctuations in foreign currency values, as well as adverse political, social and economic developments affecting one or more foreign countries. In addition, foreign investing may involve less publicly available information and more volatile or less liquid securities markets, particularly in markets that trade a small number of securities, have unstable governments, or involve limited industry. Investments in foreign countries could be affected by factors not present in the U.S, such as restrictions on receiving the investment proceeds from a foreign country, foreign tax laws or tax withholding requirements, unique trade clearance or settlement procedures, and potential difficulties in enforcing contractual obligations or other legal rules that jeopardize shareholder protection. Foreign accounting may be less transparent than U.S. accounting practices and foreign regulation may be inadequate or irregular.

- Information Security Risk. We may be susceptible to risks to the confidentiality and security of its operations and proprietary and customer information. Information risks, including theft or corruption of electronically stored data, denial of service attacks on our website or websites of our third-party service providers, and the unauthorized release of confidential information are a few of the more common risks faced by us and other investment advisors. Data security breaches of our electronic data infrastructure could have the effect of disrupting our operations and compromising our customers' confidential and personally identifiable information. Such breaches could result in an inability of us to conduct business, potential losses, including identity theft and theft of investment funds from customers, and other adverse consequences to customers. We have taken and will continue to take steps to detect and limit the risks associated with these threats.
- Tax Risks. Tax laws and regulations applicable to an account with advisor may be subject to change and unanticipated tax liabilities may be incurred by an investor as a result of such changes. In addition, customers may experience adverse tax consequences from the early assignment of options purchased for a customer's account. Customers should consult their tax advisors and counsel to determine the potential tax-related consequences of investing.
- Advisory Risk. There is no guarantee that our judgment or investment decisions on behalf of any particular account will necessarily produce the intended results. Our judgment may prove to be incorrect, and an account might not achieve her investment objectives. In addition, it is possible that we may experience computer equipment failure, loss of internet access, viruses, or other events that may impair access to account custodian software. advisor and its representatives are not responsible to any account for losses unless caused by advisor breaching our fiduciary duty.
- Dependence on Key Employees. An accounts success depends, in part, upon the ability of our key professionals to achieve the targeted investment goals. The loss of any of these key personnel could adversely impact the ability to achieve such investment goals and objectives of the account.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

We are required to disclose any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of our advisory business or the integrity of our management. Neither our Firm nor our management persons have any reportable disciplinary events to disclose.

Item 10: Other Financial Activities and Affiliations

Registration as a Broker Dealer or Broker Dealer Representative

Private Wealth is not registered and does not have an application pending to register, as a broker/dealer and its management persons are not registered as broker/dealer representative. As discussed in Item 5, one of Private Wealth's representatives are registered representatives of Purshe Kaplan Sterling Investments ("PKS"), member FINRA/SIPC, and licensed insurance agents. PKS is not affiliated with Private Wealth. Transactions made in these channels pay commissions, which presents a conflict of interest as there is an incentive to recommend products based on commissions earned. To mitigate this potential conflict, Private Wealth will act in the client's best interest; the client is under no obligation to act upon any particular recommendation. Transactions made in investment advisory accounts managed by Private Wealth's custodian and not to the referenced broker/dealer.

Registration As a Futures Commission Merchant, Commodity Pool Operator

Private Wealth and its management persons are not registered, and do not have application pending to register, as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator/advisor.

Relationships Material to This Advisory Business And Possible Conflicts Of Interest

Some of Private Wealth’s investment advisor representatives are licensed as insurance agents and sell insurance in exchange for sales commissions. This is a nonaffiliated relationship through Purshe Kaplan Sterling Investments. This creates a conflict of interest as there is an incentive to recommend broker/dealer products that pay the highest amount of commission. The client is under no obligation to act upon any particular recommendation.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Conflicts of Interest and Personal Trading

Fiduciary Status

According to SEC law, an investment advisor is considered a fiduciary. As a fiduciary, it is an investment advisor’s responsibility to provide fair and full disclosure of all material facts. In addition, an investment advisor has a duty of utmost good faith to act solely in the best interest of each of its clients. Private Wealth and its representatives have a fiduciary duty to all clients. Private Wealth and its representative’s fiduciary duty to clients is considered the core underlying principle for Private Wealth’s Code of Ethics and represents the expected basis for all representatives dealings with clients.

Description Of Code Of Ethics

Private Wealth has the responsibility to ensure that the interests of clients are placed ahead of the Firm or advisers of the Firm financial interest. All employees will conduct business in an honest, ethical, and fair manner and will comply with all federal and state securities laws at all times. Full disclosure of all material facts and potential conflicts of interest will be provided to clients prior to services being conducted. All employees have a responsibility to avoid circumstances that might negatively affect or appear to affect the employees’ duty of complete loyalty to their clients,

In view of applicable provisions of relevant law, Private Wealth has adopted a Code of Ethics to specify and prohibit certain types of transactions deemed to create conflicts of interest (or the potential or appearance of such conflicts) and to establish reporting requirements and enforcement procedures relating to personal trading by Private Wealth personnel. The Code of Ethics is available to any client or prospective client upon request. Contact our Chief Compliance Officer, Julie Wagner at juliew@privatewealth.com.

All employees must read and acknowledgment in writing they understand and agree to comply with Private Wealth’s Code of Ethics. In addition, Private Wealth outlines all business and regulatory requirements in its Compliance Policies and Procedures Manual. Employees are also required to read and acknowledge in writing they understand and agree to comply with the Compliance Policies and Procedures adopted and enforced by Private Wealth.

Conflicts of Interest

Affiliated Investment Adviser

Timothy Kneen, Jeffrey Shipley, and Maxwell Smith are indirect owners of Fidelis Capital Partners, LLC (“Fidelis Capital”) an SEC Registered Investment Advisor doing business as Fidelis Capital (CRD # 322287/SEC#:801-126176). As such, these individuals have an ownership in both Private Wealth and Fidelis Capital. This creates a conflict of interest as these individuals are, therefore, incentivized to promote the business of Fidelis Capital including referring clients to Fidelis Capital and not necessarily Private Wealth. Private Wealth has minimized this conflict of interest by ensuring that these individuals do not receive any additional compensation for clients referred to Private Wealth, other than compensation received by virtue of their indirect ownership of Private Wealth through Private Wealth Advisor Partners, LLC.

Employees Acting as Trustees

Certain employees of the Firm act as trustees of client accounts where they can receive compensation on the account through the Firm and potentially in their capacity as trustee. This creates a conflict of interest as these employees are incentivized by virtue of their compensation as trustee. As discussed throughout this Disclosure Brochure, Investment Advisory Services are provided to clients based on the specific client's requirements (investment objectives, risk tolerances, etc.) and exceptions are not made for client accounts where employees act as trustee. Further, as discussed in Item 15, Private Wealth is deemed to have custody of client assets where an employee of Private Wealth acts as trustee for the account. As such, these accounts are subject to certain audit requirements.

Employee Trading

Private Wealth or its representatives may buy or sell securities or have an interest or position in a security for their personal account, which they also may recommend to clients. Private Wealth is and shall continue to be in compliance with state and federal insider trading and securities fraud laws. As these situations may represent a potential conflict of interest, it is a policy of the Firm that no representative shall place his or her own investment choices above those of the advisory client. Employees may not trade with clients; as a preventive measure; generally, representative trades in covered securities in covered accounts are required to be precleared in advance by the Firm, subject to certain exceptions.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Selection And Recommendation

Private Wealth has a duty to select brokers, dealers and other trading venues that provide best execution for clients. The duty of best execution requires an investment advisor to seek to execute securities transactions for clients in such a manner that the client's total cost or proceeds in each transaction is the most favorable under the circumstances, taking into account all relevant factors. The lowest possible commission, while very important, is not the only consideration. The brokers dealers Private Wealth currently utilizes are Fidelity Institutional.

It is the policy of the Firm to seek best execution in all portfolio trading activities for all investment disciplines and products, regardless of whether commissions are charged. This applies to trading in any instrument, security, or contract including equities, bonds, and forward or derivative contracts.

The standards and procedures governing best execution are set forth in several written policies. Generally, to achieve best execution, Private Wealth considers the following factors, without limitation, between similar brokers or custodial platforms in selecting a broker or intermediary:

- Services and Pricing
- Execution capability
- Order size and market depth
- Competing markets and liquidity availability
- Trading characteristics of the security
- Information comparing markets availability
- Confidentiality
- Reputation and integrity
- Responsiveness
- Recordkeeping
- Ability and willingness to commit capital
- Available technology
- Ability to address current market conditions
- Data Security
- Quantity and quality of research received from the broker/dealer

Private Wealth evaluates the execution, performance, risk profile and provides ongoing due diligence of the broker/dealers and Third-Party Managers and Investment Platforms it uses at least quarterly.

Research And Other Soft Dollar Benefits

Soft dollar practices are arrangements whereby an investment advisor directs transactions to a broker/ dealer in exchange for certain products and services that are allowable under SEC rules. Client commissions may be used to pay for brokerage and research services and products as long as they are eligible under Section 28(e) of the Exchange Act of 1934. Section 28(e) sets forth a “safe harbor,” which provides that an investment advisor that has discretion over a client account is not in breach of its fiduciary duty when paying more than the lowest commission rate available if the advisor determines in good faith that the rate paid is commensurate with the value of brokerage and research services provided by the broker/dealer.

The firm does not have any soft dollar arrangements but does receive the following from Fidelity:

The Firm receives without cost from Fidelity administrative support, computer software, related systems support, as well as other third-party support as further described below (together “Support”) which allow Private Wealth to better monitor client accounts maintained at Fidelity and otherwise conduct its business. The Firm receives the Support without cost because the Firm renders investment management services to clients that maintain assets at Fidelity. The Support is not provided in connection with securities transactions of clients (i.e., not “soft dollars”). The Support benefits the Firm, but not its clients directly. Clients should be aware that Private Wealth’s receipt of economic benefits such as the Support from a broker/dealer creates a conflict of interest since these benefits will influence the Firm’s choice of broker/dealer over another that does not furnish similar software, systems support or services. In fulfilling its duties to its clients, the Firm endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first and has determined that the recommendation of Fidelity is in the best interest of clients and satisfies the Firm’s duty to seek best execution.

Specifically, Private Wealth receives the following benefits from Fidelity:

- i. receipt of duplicate client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements;
- ii. access to a trading desk that exclusively services its institutional traders;
- iii. access to block trading which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts; and
- iv. access to an electronic communication network for client order entry and account information.

In addition, the Firm receives funds to be used toward qualifying third-party service providers for research, marketing, compliance, technology and software platforms and services. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as a certain amount of the advisor’s clients’ assets are maintained in accounts at Fidelity. Fidelity’s services include brokerage services that are related to the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, including that in the form of advice, analyses and reports, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

For client accounts maintained in its custody, Fidelity generally does not charge separately for custody services but is compensated by account holders through commissions or other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through Fidelity or that settle into Fidelity accounts.

Fidelity also makes available to the Firm other products and services that benefit the Firm but may not benefit its clients’ accounts. These benefits may include national, regional or Firm-specific educational events organized and/or sponsored by Fidelity. Other potential benefits may include occasional business entertainment of personnel of Private Wealth by Fidelity personnel, including meals, invitations to sporting events, including golf tournaments, and other forms of entertainment, some of which may accompany educational opportunities.

Other products and services assist Private Wealth in managing and administering clients' accounts. These include software and other technology (and related technological training) that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements), facilitate trade execution (and allocation of aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts), provide research, pricing information and other market data, facilitate payment of the Firm's fees from its clients' accounts, and assist with back-office training and support functions, recordkeeping and client reporting. Many of these services generally may be used to service all or some substantial number of the Firm's accounts, including accounts not maintained at Fidelity. Fidelity also makes available to Private Wealth other services intended to help the Firm manage and further develop its business enterprise.

These services may include professional compliance, legal and business consulting, publications and conferences on practice management, information technology, business succession, regulatory compliance, employee benefits providers, human capital consultants, insurance and marketing. In addition, Fidelity may make available, arrange and/or pay vendors for these types of services rendered to the Firm by independent third parties. Fidelity may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to the Firm.

Client Referrals

Private Wealth does not receive client referrals from third parties for recommending the use of specific broker/dealer brokerage services.

Directed Brokerage

Securities transactions are executed by brokers selected by Private Wealth in its discretion and without the consent of clients. Private Wealth selects the broker/dealer of its custodian, Fidelity. Not all advisory firms require their clients to direct brokerage to certain broker/dealer firms. By directing brokerage, Private Wealth may not be able to achieve most favorable execution on client transactions.

Clients of Private Wealth generally may not direct brokerage, a practice known as "Client Directed Brokerage." Not all advisory firms require clients to use a certain broker/dealer and clients may pay more for trade execution than they would if they did not direct brokerage arrangements because of the Firm's inability to negotiate commission rates and evaluate the execution quality of such brokers.

Order Aggregation

Private Wealth may, at times, aggregate sale and purchase orders of securities ("block trading") for advisory accounts with similar orders in order to obtain the best pricing averages and minimize trading costs. This practice is likely to result in administrative convenience or an overall economic benefit to the client. Clients also benefit relatively from better purchase or sales execution prices, or beneficial timing of transactions, or a combination of these and other factors. Aggregate orders will be allocated to client accounts in a systematic non-preferential manner. Private Wealth may aggregate or "bunch" transactions for a client's account with those of other clients in an effort to obtain the best execution.

Trade Error Policy

Private Wealth maintains a record of any trading errors that occur in connection with investment activities of its clients. Losses that result from a trading error made by Private Wealth will be absorbed by Private Wealth and will not be passed on to the client. Gains that result from a trading error are donated to charity by Fidelity.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Periodic Reviews

The investment advisor representative evaluates the client's accounts based on the client's investment objectives and meets with the client at least annually to identify any changes needed to their investment strategy. The investment adviser representative determines the model and strategy effectiveness in obtain the client's goals and makes appropriate changes. Overall portfolio performance analysis for the Firm and rate of returns are monitored and evaluated by the Investment Committee periodically

Intermittent Review Factors

Intermittent reviews may be triggered by substantial market fluctuation, economic or political events, or changes in the client's financial status (such as retirement, termination of employment, relocation, inheritance, etc.). Clients are advised to notify Private Wealth promptly if there are any material changes in their financial situation, investment objectives, or in the event they wish to place restrictions on their account. These life changes are discussed in client meetings in order to confirm the best investment strategy is in place to meet the client's needs.

Reports

Clients may receive confirmations of purchases and sales in their accounts and will receive, at least quarterly, statements containing account information such as account value, transactions, and other relevant information. Confirmations and statements are prepared and delivered by Fidelity.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Client Referrals

Private Wealth does not pay for client referrals.

Other Compensation

As discussed in Item 10, Some of Private Wealth's investment adviser representatives are licensed as insurance agents and broker/dealer representatives and receive sales commissions on the basis of transactions completed. These commissions are in addition to fees the client pays to Private Wealth. this broker/dealer and insurance agency is not affiliated with Private Wealth and transactions in accounts managed by Private Wealth are not routed to this broker/dealer or insurance company. Receipt of sales commissions creates a conflict of interest as there is an incentive to recommend insurance or broker/ dealer products that pay the highest amount of commission. Private Wealth has an incentive to recommend use of its custodian's broker/dealer and life insurance company due to certain benefits provided by the custodian to Private Wealth. The client is under no obligation to act upon any recommendation made.

Employees of the Private Wealth may act as trustee over certain client assets. This creates a conflict of as the trustee-employees would be incentivized to place client assets with Private Wealth. These employees may receive compensation for acting as trustee on the client account in addition to compensation through Private Wealth for having those assets managed by Private Wealth.

Item 15: Custody

Custody Of Assets

Custody means holding, directly or indirectly, client funds or securities or having any authority to obtain possession of them. With certain exceptions discussed below, Private Wealth does not have direct custody of any client funds and/or securities through its traditional asset management programs, which are held by

Private Wealth Asset Management, LLC – ADV Part 2A with Privacy Policy

Fidelity. Currently, Private Wealth utilizes Fidelity Institutional as custodian. Refer to item 12, Brokerage Practices for Fidelity Institutional.

Oil & Gas Management

Private Wealth has custody due to features of its Oil & Gas Management program. Some of the services provided include handling day-to-day financial transactions on behalf of the assets managed under the programs. Private Wealth will have a Standing Letter of Authorization to act on behalf of these accounts. Custody audits are performed by a third-party firm hired by Private Wealth on accounts to ensure the client's best interest always comes first and there are no conflicts of interest.

Employees Acting as Trustees

Clients may ask an employee of Private Wealth to act as trustee over their account. Custody audits are performed by a third-party firm hired by Private Wealth on accounts to ensure the client's best interest always comes first and there are no conflicts of interest.

Direct Debiting of Fees

Although Private Wealth does not take custody or possession of the funds or securities that a client has placed under its management, Private Wealth is deemed by the SEC to have custody of those accounts where fees are debited directly from the client's custodian bank account. We previously disclosed in the "Fees and Compensation" section (Item 5) of this Brochure that our firm directly debits advisory fees from client accounts.

As part of this billing process, the client's custodian is advised of the amount of the fee to be deducted from that client's account. On at least a quarterly basis, the custodian is required to send to the client a statement showing all transactions and holdings within the account during the reporting period, in addition to any advisory fees paid.

Because the custodian does not calculate the amount of the fee to be deducted, it is important for clients to carefully review their custodial statements to verify the accuracy of the calculation, among other things. Clients should contact us directly if they believe that there may be an error in their statement.

In addition to the periodic statements that clients receive directly from their custodians, we also send account statements directly to our clients monthly. While Private Wealth makes every effort to provide accurate statements, we urge our clients to carefully compare the information provided on our statements to statements provided by their custodian in order to ensure that all account transactions, holdings and values are correct and current.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

Private Wealth provides continuous and regular investment advisory services on both discretionary and non-discretionary accounts. The extent to which Private Wealth exercises discretion over the investment selection in a client account, as well as any limitations on Private Wealth's discretionary authority (if any) is as agreed with each client and/or as stated in each client agreement or other investment management agreement. Any client agreements are executed at the commencement of each account opening, prior to Private Wealth's assumption of discretionary authority, if any. Private Wealth's authority can be limited by client-imposed investment objectives and strategies.

Private Wealth may exercise full discretionary authority to supervise and direct the investments of a client account. This authority will be granted by clients upon completion of the agreement for Investment Management Services. This authority allows Private Wealth and its affiliates to implement investment decisions without prior consultation with the client. Such investment decisions are made in the client's best interest and in accordance with the client's investment objectives.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities and Legal Proceedings

Proxy Voting

Private Wealth votes proxies for clients and follows its written proxy voting policies and procedures (Proxy Policy) which states that proxies are to be voted in client's best interests. The Proxy Policy authorizes Private Wealth to utilize a third-party proxy voting service, International Shareholder Services (ISS).

The Firm votes proxies for clients and has contracted Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS) to provide proxy voting services. While the Firm has ultimate responsibility for voting proxies, ISS will execute the actual voting. The Firm has decided to vote as suggested by ISS unless Private Wealth otherwise directs ISS to vote differently. They will not exercise influence or control over ISS in their conduct of voting proxies.

The CCO, along with the Investment Committee will review quarterly reports provided by ISS to confirm their voting philosophy aligns with Private Wealth. If a client requests their proxy vote to be handled differently than ISS, a request will be made and the CCO will submit this request to ISS to vote accordingly.

Private Wealth engages with Third-Party Managers who vote proxies on behalf of clients in which Private Wealth does not have influence over voting. Proxies are voted at their discretion based on the Proxy Policies of those Third-Party Managers. This information can be found in their ADV.

You may contact the Chief Compliance Officer, Julie Wagner at juliew@privatewealth.com to request a copy of Private Wealth's Proxy Policy and/or to request how proxies were voted.

Class Action Litigation

Private Wealth may advise clients on shareholder class action litigations involving securities held or previously held in client accounts. Private Wealth will not be responsible for responding to or forwarding class action settlement offers relating to securities currently or previously held in client accounts to clients but will offer advice on how the client should proceed.

Item 18: Financial Information

Balance Sheet Requirement

Private Wealth is not the qualified custodian for client funds or securities and does not require prepayment of fees of more than $500 per client, six (6) months or more in advance.

Financial Condition

Private Wealth does not have any financial impairment that would preclude the Firm from meeting contractual commitments to clients.

Bankruptcy Petition

Private Wealth has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the last 10 years
